WHEN WAR WILL BE WAGED UPON SPAIN

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY TELLS THE SECRET

It Will Be When All the Nations Approve and God Justifies the Step—Preparations for the Emergency Going on Apace—The Maine Inquiry.

New York, March 2.—[Special]—The World this morning quotes President McKinley as having said in a private interview: 'You may rest assured there will not be war with my consent except for a cause which will satisfy good men here, the nations of Europe, and almighty God.'

SIGNS OF IMPENDING WAR.

They Are Not To Be Misunderstood by Keen Observers.

Washington, March 2.—A leading senator, supposed to be on terms of intimacy with the president, said last night:

'You may not have so many details as some members of the senate, but the facts that are common property, even viewed from the most conservative standpoint possible, tell an unmistakable story. Superficial investigation of a number of things done by the administration within the past few days, would certainly convince a jury, if submitted as circumstantial evidence, that the president, through General Lee or some other source, has information that the court of inquiry is practically certain to report that the destruction of the Maine was not an accident.'

'Secretary Alger has had orders prepared for the mobilization of the militia of all the states, the date and destination alone remaining blank, and two hours will suffice to place all these orders upon the wires.'

'Arrangements with the railroads have been so perfected that it will require hardly more than the touching of a button to set the trains into motion that are to transport the troops.'

'Secretary Alger, within a couple of days, has closed all contracts for carrying all war materials along the coast, and has ordered everything rushed by rail, although by doing so the government must pay several times as much for the hauling.'

'The manufacture and shipment of war materials is being pushed exactly as if a state of war already existed.'

SPANIARDS WERE TO BLAME

Opinion on the Maine Catastrophe by an Expert.

Chicago, March 2.—[Special]—Capt. H. A. Allen, a retired officer of the United States navy, now executive officer in the naval militia lectured last night to his fellow officers, and in the course of his remarks said:

'Captain Sigabee is a square, up-to-date man, and you can put it down that the Maine disaster was the result of no accident. These Spanish naval officers in Havana slur American officers for carelessness. Why, many times I have seen cigarette butts strewn over magazine floors of Spanish men-of-war,' continued the officer.

'I think we are going to have war. It won't last long. We can fire a seventeen-ton broadside to the Spaniards seven. Furthermore, one American officer is a match for a whole flock of swashbuckling caballeros unless he encounters them in the dark equipped with the inevitable stiletto.'

He may be permitted to resign, but in any event his connection with the administration will be terminated within the next sixty days. Mr. Roosevelt's disposition is entirely too warlike to suit the chief executive. The other night Secretary Long turned matters over to Roosevelt and went away for a few days' rest. That night Roosevelt sent a letter to the chairman of naval affairs in each house of congress requesting that a bill be passed immediately authorizing the navy department to put all the retired war vessels into commission, to provide for arming the auxiliary cruisers, to authorize the enlistment of 1,500 additional seamen, and to authorize the purchase of 1,000 tons of powder to be stored at Key West.

SAY THEY LIKE THE GAZETTE

Madison State Journal and Milwaukee Sentinel Use Kind Words.

In an article concerning The Gazette, The Madison State Journal uses these kind words: 'The Janesville Gazette is perhaps the most sprightly in its new features of any exchange that comes to us. Its bright and diversified make-up, multitudinous items of all kinds and scraps of entertaining miscellany, periodically cause a riot in the State Journal office, due to envious emulation.'

The Milwaukee Sentinel also pays The Gazette a compliment, saying: 'The Gazette is one of the most entertaining and interesting of the Wisconsin dailies.'

TOBACCO MARKET IS MORE ACTIVE

RECEIPTS LARGER THAN FOR MANY MONTHS.

Growers Are Selling Their Product at Exceptionally Good Prices—New Warehouse Opened—Recent Transactions Involving Large Quantities of Leaf.

Edgerton, Wis., March 12.—There is much of the old-time activity about the warehouses at the market points now that the tobacco purchased a few days ago has commenced to be delivered in liberal amounts. Every day sees hundreds of teams drawn up at these storehouses, awaiting their turn to unload. And the product, even at the prices paid, is yielding the growers better than almost any other branch of their farming.

It is not unusual for growers to carry away checks for amounts over $1,000 for their tobacco crops. There is a good deal of steady riding going on among the buyers, and large quantities are changing hands at about former prices. Out of fifty cases reported by The Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter last week, about one-half received 6 cents for better binder grades, and the balance below that figure. Possibly one-half of last season's crop has been lifted, but it is hardly probable that many more thousand cases will be purchased to be handled in the bundle, as the limit of the firms now in the field is pretty well reached. Much of the tobacco bought for the export trade will either be shipped loosely laid in the cases, without tying, or stored in the bundle until after it has passed through the sweat in bundle. These methods will increase the capacity of warehouse handling by a good many thousand cases.

Another new tobacco storehouse, the largest in the state, has just been started here, having a storing capacity of 8,000 cases. The building will be 60x160 feet, and will be finished in time to relieve the crowded condition of many of the warehouses, which are largely filled with old leaf. The largest transactions of the week in old leaf is the sale of 252 cases '97 made by E. O. Hopkins to H. W. Child. A 400-case lot by O. C. Lee of Stoughton to Underhill for the account of Schroeder & Son, New York. Rumrill of Janesville also reports the sale of 100 cases of old leaf. The shipments out of storage here during the week reach 370 cases to all points. More carloads of new have been received from outside points than outgoing. Since last report 250 cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

GIVE JANESVILLE THE SLIP

Kelmeier Will Not Go to the Klondike Via This City

"For the benefit of the anxious public I just wish you would state in The Gazette tonight that the reindeer which were purchased in Lapland by the United States government, and which are now on their way from New York to Alaska, will not pass through Janesville," said a local official of the St. Paul road today.

During the past two days several persons have made personal calls at the local freight house, while the telephone has been kept ringing from early till late, each inquirer being anxious to know just when the deer would arrive here.

St. Paul officials say their road will take the shipment from Chicago to St. Paul via Racine Junction, Milwaukee and La Crosse.

The next regular meeting of the Rock County Medical society will be held at the municipal court room on Friday evening of the present week. The disease is now ravaging the country from end to end, and the result of mortality has become alarming. The Chicago commissioner of health reports that nearly one-half of the deaths in that city last week were caused by pneumonia and its kindred and resulting complaints, while in other cities the proportion is almost equally as great.

The program of the physicians for the meeting indicated is as follows:

Prisoners in the third grade are dressed in scarlet, the cap also being of that color. Second grade prisoners are dressed in grey with black stripes. Men in the first grade will wear plain grey without stripes, and will have black caps. The first grade men will be given all prisoners' privileges, and those in the third grade none at all except by special permission of the warden.

WANTS TO FIGHT M'COY

Bob Fitzsimmons Has Challenged the Kid to a Contest.

"Bob" Fitzsimmons, the little champion who gave a recent exhibition at the Myers opera house in this city, has issued a challenge directed point blank at "Kid" McCoy in response to the latter's oft-repeated waiting for a chance at the victor of Carson City, has filled the bosom of the astute Indian with glee and probably thrown Peter Maher into a state of deeper despondency. In vain has the Irishman hurled challenge after challenge at the elusive "Kid" in the forlorn hope of bringing him within the range of his right hand. Even the $5,000 deposit made by the Kid's backers on their man's behalf has been "passed up" with withering disdain.

COFFEE WILL TAKE A TUMBLE

Certain local grocers state that the price of package coffee will surely go down before a great while. While the roasters state that they are selling at a loss now, still it is the opinion that the present prices are not a bargain, and that there will be a reduction. The last one took place about a week ago, as stated in The Gazette, and was 50 cents on a case. Dealers have been warned not to buy too heavily, as they might regret it later. Instructions to this effect have been sent out to the traveling men.

Gossip of a Personal and Business Character Gleaned by Gazette Reporters in the Garden Spot of Wisconsin—Religious and Social Notes.

Rock River, March 2.—A number of our residents attended the Seventh-Day Baptist quarterly meeting at Albion last Sabbath. Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Osbourne, of Milton Junction, visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vincent the first of the week. A strange sight was witnessed here last Saturday. At 4:30 p. m. a rainbow was seen in the center of the sky, while the sun was shining brightly. Mr. and Mrs. George Bassett visited at A. P. Vincent's, Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crandall, of Milton, visited at Mrs. Silas Crandall's Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Warden Crosey and daughter, of Milton Junction, visited at Mrs. Almira Vincent's from Saturday until Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bassett visited at Mr. and Mrs. George Pell's, at Albion, one day last week. The young people of this place are preparing for an entertainment for the benefit of the church which will be held March 9. An excellent program will be presented, consisting of dialogue, songs, etc. Admission 10 cents. Mrs. Chauncey Hall is very sick. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vincent's baby, which has been quite sick, is better. Homer Balch and Anna Crandall, of this place, were married at Elder W. O. Whitford's Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Emerald Grove

Emerald Grove, March 1.—Miss Janet McArthur's school will join with the Fairfield school and give an entertaining exhibition at the Fairfield church, Friday evening, March 4. A box social will follow the program. Admission 10 cents. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of both schools. Mr. and Mrs. William Lester are once more in the village, after a few days visit in Shopshire. Those who attended the concert given by the young people of Fairfield last Thursday evening report a very pleasant entertainment. All who took part did themselves credit, especially the young ladies' quartette. Gilles & Jones have some more of those seedless raisins, 5 pounds for a quarter. P. J. McFarlane and Otis Hall, of Johnston Center, were callers on Monday. William More, brother of Robert More, returned to his home in Webster S. D., on Tuesday. A missionary entertainment will be given in the Congregational church next Sunday evening.

Fairfield

Fairfield, March 1.—Many of our citizens are captives of the grip. Mr. and Mrs. Rice of Milton, spent Sunday with their daughter. Among those who have been on the sick list are Mrs. D. L. Kane, Mrs. S. D. Serl and daughter Lura, and Lizzie Outter. A new butter maker has been engaged at the creamery, as Mr. Shopski has taken a position at Belvidere. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Serl expect to leave for their new home near Milton, this week. A social was recently given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Serl. A large company was present, and the evening passed merrily. Mrs. C. Slocum and Miss Lillie Pemberton, of Williams Bay, were recent guests at O. Robinson's. There was a good attendance at the concert last Thursday evening and a pleasing program was presented. Remember the exhibition of the schools on Friday evening of this week at the Fairfield church. Miss Garbutt closes the village school this week, for the spring vacation. Quite a delegation from Fairfield Camp visited the Emerald Grove M. W. A. last Saturday.

Porter

Porter, March 2.—Six doctors were in consultation at the home of Jos. Branks one day recently, but the case seems to baffle the medical profession, and he is slowly but surely failing. Mr. Clarke, of Evansville, agent for the Aetna Life Insurance company, is canvassing the neighborhood, and meeting with excellent success. The gold fever has at last struck Porter. John Lind starts for the promising land of Klondike on Monday. He leaves his family with his wife's people. Many tobacco buyers are seen on our streets, but the prices paid are extremely low. Albert Roehl, of the town of Janesville, has moved on the Wixom farm. Chas. O'Neill and family have moved to a farm five miles from Janesville. What a good thing it would be if our neighboring towns had a curfew, for the express purpose of warning some people when to start home.

Stebbinsville

Stebbinsville, March 2.—Some of the tobacco is sold around here at 4 and 2 cents in bundle. The school exhibition last Friday night was a grand success. Alfred Collins will have an auction on March 23. There will be an entertainment at the church on Friday evening. Mrs. Maggie Nelson is visiting a few days at Frank Walker's. The farmers filled the ice houses at the creamery last week. Add Hill, of Albion, was calling on old friends here last Saturday. There will be a meeting at the farmers' creamery on Wednesday, to decide who the farmers will rent it to for the next five years.

WILL SEEK ATHLETIC HONORS

All the High School Scholars of the State Will Enter the Field.

The best athletic talent of the Janesville High school will be invited to participate in an interscholastic field day contest to take place this year, to which all the High schools of the state will send representatives. President Mayberry, of the state university, is now making preliminary arrangements for the coming event.

The plan is similar to the one in vogue in Illinois, where the state university conducts each year a meet for the high schools of the state, furnishing grounds, prizes and officials. The event has been a feature of Illinois athletic sports for seven years, and its success has led to Wisconsin's action along the same lines.

NEWS FROM THE MORNING PAPERS

Havana, via Key West, March 2.—The Maine was not destroyed by accident. Positive proof of this has been found. The explosion which was primarily responsible for the sinking of the battleship and the loss of the lives of 258 American sailors occurred in the water outside the vessel.

The condition of the ship is such as to prove this conclusively. The keel of the vessel has been found to be in two pieces, and these are some distance from each other. There is no possibility that an interior explosion could have produced such results. All authorities on the subject of explosives concur in this conclusion. The interior explosion, if one really did occur, could not have sunk the ship so suddenly or caused such enormous damage.

Under the circumstances it is believed by experts that any attempt to raise the vessel will be useless. The money so spent would be wasted. It is claimed that the hull could never be repaired so as to make the battleship seaworthy. In fact, it is considered doubtful whether the ship could be raised, so deeply has it sunk in the mud of the harbor.

The wreckers and their divers have begun work and additional proofs of Spanish treachery are being continually found. It seems certain now that the forward magazine of the big ten-inch gun did not blow up. Another powder case with its contents intact was brought up by the divers.

SECRETARY LONG'S STATEMENT.

His Personal Opinion as to Responsibility for the Maine Disaster.

Washington, March 2.—Secretary Long made a somewhat remarkable statement Tuesday and modified it afterward, but it is still difficult for the friends of President McKinley to understand the public expressions of the secretary of the navy.

When Secretary Long left the cabinet meeting he said: "The element of Spanish responsibility has been practically eliminated from the Maine disaster." This was so astonishing as an administration statement after the President had asked the country to patiently wait for the report of the board of inquiry and all members of the cabinet had said that the public knew as much as they did, for all official information has been made public, that it created no little excitement and some criticism.

Secretary Long later dictated the following statement: "The main things we talked about in the cabinet were the outrages of the postmasters, one a white man in Georgia and one a colored man in South Carolina. In regard to the Cuban situation I said I thought things were growing quieter every day, and as far as my judgment went I was inclined to think that any official participation on the part of the Spanish government in the disaster was now practically eliminated."

It is still unsatisfactory even as the private opinion of the secretary of the navy. Mr. Long has held several opinions in the two weeks since the Maine was destroyed, and if he has no official information which has not been made public his opinion is not considered of great value. At the first the secretary said it must have been an accident, then he abandoned that theory, and now he acquits Spain of all responsibility, and changes this to a statement that "any official participation by the Spanish government in the blowing up of the Maine was practically eliminated."

WIRES OF MINE.

Court Said to Have Proof of Spanish Treachery.

Key West, March 2.—Remnants of the submarine mine with which the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor are said to be now in possession of the United States officials at Key West. This is the cause of the hurried warlike preparations which are now being made by the war vessels in this harbor.

The remains of the mine were brought here Sunday morning from Havana by the light-house tender Mangrove, which also brought the members of the court of inquiry.

The inquisitors have the wire attachments, which became entangled in the electrical wires that were used for giving light to the divers, and were brought to the surface when the electric wires were brought in. The remnants of the mine are now in the warehouse of the light-house department at Key West. Great precautions were made to keep the fact secret.

It is current here that one member of the court of inquiry declared in private that the question of fixing the responsibility of the Maine disaster was too serious for the court to decide and that the board would submit the evidence to congress.

Claim Peace Is Assured.

London, March 3.—The Globou of Madrid, dated Feb. 26, just received here, discussing the political situation, says: "Nothing could be more promising than the present relations between the two nations. Gen. Woodford's words, 'Peace forever,' are hailed with delight. Senor Sagasta, the cabinet ministers and Gen. Woodford all make such explicit peaceful statements that peace may be regarded as assured. This is all the more satisfactory since the late events all pointed to a different issue."

The Liberal of the same date says: "The high fever from which a portion of the populace has been suffering has considerably decreased within the last few hours."

Rapidly Preparing for Sea.

Philadelphia, March 2.—The work of preparing for sea the war vessels now at League Island is progressing rapidly. A naval officer stated that the only one to go into commission immediately is the monitor Miantonomah, and a large number of men have been working on her continuously. With the exception of receiving her coal she is almost ready for sea. Work on the ram Kahtadin is also nearly completed. The coaling of the cruiser Minneapolis will not be completed for a day or two. The cruiser Columbia, which has been lying in the back channel at League Island for some months, was brought out of her berth and towed up the Delaware River to the League Island dry dock.

More Than 350,000 Are Dead.

Washington, March 2.—An official of the state department said of the reports of the condition of the pacificos in Cuba that the letters of the consuls all told the same story of awful misery and starvation. About 225,000 people, old men, women, and children, are literally starving to death. Including this number, between 450,000 and 500,000 are suffering from disease and lack of proper food. More than 350,000 people have died as a result of the reconcentrado order issued by Weyler.

American Squadron at Hongkong.

London, March 2.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says: "The United States squadron is concentrated at Hongkong, with a view of active operations against Manila, Philippine islands, in the event of an outbreak of war between the United States and Spain. The squadron, which is very powerful, includes the cruisers Olympia, Boston, Raleigh, Concord and Petrel."

McKinley Desires of Peace.

New York, March 2.—A correspondent of the World quotes President McKinley as saying to a business man of national reputation, who was his friend before the election: "You may rest assured there will not be war with my consent, except for a cause which will satisfy good men here, the nations of Europe, and (with a pause) Almighty God."

Mobilization Plans Made.

New York, March 2.—A dispatch to the World from Washington says: "Notwithstanding the strong faith in peace still held by the administration, it is learned that plans have been matured for the mobilization and transportation of 100,000 soldiers, with arms, equipments, and supplies, if they are needed."

Marines Sent to Galveston.

Independence, Kan., March 2.—A special train of six coaches, carrying 500 of Uncle Sam's marines, passed through southern Kansas Monday night on its way to Galveston to be in readiness in case of any trouble with Spain. It is said these marines will take charge of the fortifications and big guns at Galveston.

Europeans Not to Interfere.

London, March 2.—The suggestion in certain New York dispatches that in the event of war between the United States and Spain the latter may receive active co-operation from some unnamed European power is treated with entire incredulity in political circles of London.

Sagasta Expects News.

Madrid, March 2.—Premier Sagasta is quoted in an interview as saying that he expects very satisfactory news from Cuba before April. In the course of the same interview Sagasta said: "In view of the increase in the price of grain in Spain the government has decided to reduce the import duties."

Spain Has Not Interfered.

Washington, March 2.—No advice have been received at either the state or navy department that would warrant the statement that the Spanish officials in Havana have attempted to interpose any obstacles to the prosecution of the work of the wreckers on the Maine's hull.

Spain Buys Three Warships.

Madrid, March 2.—Spain has succeeded in some manner not yet disclosed in raising the cash necessary to secure the three Chilean warships which have been in the market for more than a year. The purchase is practically completed.

Defeats the Old Party.

Toronto, Ont., March 2.—General elections for the Ontario legislature took place throughout the province Tuesday and resulted in a virtual, if not actual, defeat for the liberal government, which has held power for more than twenty-five years.

New Counterfeit Appears.

Washington, March 2.—A new issue of the counterfeit $2 treasury note discovered by the secret service some time ago has made its appearance. This note bears check letter B and plate number 28.

Frank James Very Ill.

St. Louis, Mo., March 2.—Frank James, the famous ex-bandit, is lying dangerously ill at his home in this city and the attending physician entertains but little hope of his recovery.

FOR INQUIRY BY SPAIN.

Madrid Paper Suggests That such a Course May Be Necessary.

Madrid, March 2.—Senor Polo de Bernabe left Gibraltar Tuesday on the Kaiser Wilhelm. He expects to be at his desk in Washington on March 10.

The Correspondencia, which is one of the serious papers here, says: "Supposing the American commission considers the Maine disaster criminal, we shall have to hear the opinion of the Spanish commission. In case of a failure to agree it will be necessary to nominate a mixed commission."

"We remain firm in the belief that the Yankee commission will not find the explosion due to exterior causes, and in case of a doubtful verdict we feel sure President McKinley would not wage war against Spain in the face of a European verdict to the contrary and that of the sensible portion of the American people."

Gov. Mount Means Business.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 2.—Gov. Mount was disappointed over the refusal of Justice of the Peace Craig of Ripley county to hold Hezekiah Hughes to the grand jury. He declares that the investigation will not stop with the acquittal of Hughes. An extra effort to locate Arch Wright, for whom a warrant has been issued, will be made, it is announced. The attorney-general has been led to believe that Wright, if arrested, will tell the whole story of the lynching in order to save himself. The state's representatives say that but for the influence of a Versailles minister the justice of the peace would have held Hughes.

To Prevent Rowdy Baseball.

St. Louis, Mo., March 2.—Most radical legislation was enacted Tuesday by the magnates of the National Baseball league, assembled here in annual session. At the afternoon session a measure for the suppression of obscene, indecent, and vulgar language upon the ball field by players was adopted by the representatives of the twelve clubs present without a dissenting vote. The provisions of this measure are most sweeping, and provide for the trial of guilty persons before a tribunal of three judges, to be known as the board of discipline, which shall punish the culprit either by suspension or expulsion for life.

Michigan Village Burned.

Watersmeet, Mich., March 2.—Fire started in Main street in the building formerly occupied by F. C. Payne & Co. Monday night, destroying the Commercial house, M. Kelly's store building, which was occupied as a dwelling; John Kelly's dry-goods store; Ted Kelly's saloon and Kelly's barber shop. The Krom building, occupied by F. C. Payne & Co., was the only building in Main street that was saved.

William Swears in Recruits.

Wilhelmshaven, March 2.—Emperor William arrived here Tuesday to attend the ceremony of swearing in the naval recruits. His majesty, addressing the naval recruits, referred to the colors of the German flag—black, white and red—saying that black represented work, white represented rest and peace and red represented blood, "which was necessary to cement the others together."

A PECULIAR FACT.

Thousands of People Have Dyspepsia in Its Worst Form and Do Not Know It.

A weak stomach is the cause of about nine-tenths of all diseases, yet in most cases the wrong thing is treated and the true cause overlooked.

This is because a weak digestion produces symptoms resembling nearly every disease because it weakens and disturbs the action of every nerve and organ in the body; poor digestion causes heart trouble, kidney troubles, lung weakness, and especially nervous break down or nervous prostration, the nerves cannot stand the wear and tear unless generously fed by well digested, wholesome food.

Keep the digestion good and no one need fear the approach of disease.

Mrs. H. F. Lee, of Rochester, N. Y., writes: "For the sake of suffering humanity I want to say that from a child I had a very weak stomach, threw up my food very often after eating and after a few years nervous dyspepsia resulted and for more than twenty years I have suffered inexpressibly."

I tried many physicians and advertised remedies with only temporary relief for nervous dyspepsia and not until I commenced taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets last September, six months ago, have I been free from suffering caused by the condition of my nerves and stomach; in short, chronic nervous dyspepsia.

I have recommended Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to many of my friends and now I want in a public way to say they are the safest, pleasantest and I believe surest cure for stomach and nerve troubles. I write my honest opinion and I will gladly answer any letter of inquiry at any time and feel that I am, in a small way, helping on a good cause.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a patent medicine, but they contain only the fruit salts, digestive acids and pepsin necessary to help the weak stomach to promptly and thoroughly digest food.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package and anyone suffering from nervous dyspepsia, a sour stomach, headaches, acidity, gases, belching, etc., will find them not only a quick relief but a radical cure.

Send to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for little book describing cause and cure of stomach troubles giving symptoms and treatment of the various forms of indigestion.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1769—De Witt Clinton, statesman, born at New Windsor, N. Y.; died 1828. De Witt Clinton was the son of General James Clinton, a distinguished colonial and Revolutionary soldier. In public life he was a rival of Aaron Burr and Daniel D. Tompkins. For his advocacy of the Erie canal he was elected governor of New York in 1817. Governor Clinton was a patron of learning and of public schools.
1785—Sam Houston, hero of Texas, born near Lexington, Va.; died at Huntsville, Tex., July 25, 1863.
1800—Ex-Governor James Edward English of Connecticut died at New Haven; born 1817.
1804—General Jubal A. Early, a prominent Confederate, died at Lynchburg, Va.; born 1816.
1865—Professor John Stuart Blackie of the University of Edinburgh died in Edinburgh; born 1810.
1896—Charles Carleton Coffin, war correspondent and author, died at Brookline, Mass.; born 1823. Baron Talleyrand-Perigord, ex-ambassador of France and diplomat, died in Paris; born 1821.
1897—Rev. Dr. Scoville Mallory, editor of The Churchman, died in New York city; aged 59.

STATE FINANCES.

The statement of state finances covering a period of ten years, furnished by Governor Scofield, and recently published in the Milwaukee Sentinel, shows conclusively that a direct tax is necessary. The statement is clear and comprehensive, and is free from any political shading. With an annual expenditure of four million dollars and annual receipts of about half that amount, it is clear to the most obtuse mind that a shortage exists. The question is very naturally asked: Who is responsible for increased expense?

It can not be charged to either political party, for the increase covers several administrations.

The growth of the state and the commendable ambition to keep up with the age of progress, is alone responsible for existing conditions. The school system of the state has long been a source of pride to the citizens of the state and the increase of over $600,000 in this department has produced results that are gratifying. Wisconsin stands close to the front in the care of her defective and dependent citizens and the money contributed for their welfare is cheerfully paid.

In considering this very practical question the fact should not be overlooked that the state owns a valuable property, that is not properly chargeable to expense. The state university grounds and buildings represent a very tangible asset. The seven Normal schools own property worth half a million or more, while the eight penal and charitable institutions have a monied investment of several times that amount. A liberal percentage of the increased expenditure shown in the statement is represented by the property investments.

When the state buys five hundred acres of land and puts up buildings worth from one to two hundred thousand dollars the money is not wasted but simply invested in tangible assets. It cannot be argued that the investment is extravagant and unnecessary because the demands are upon us as a state, and we have no more right to shirk responsibility, than has the individual.

An inventory of state property will show today an investment of from ten to fifteen million dollars. This property, scattered over the state, is in active use, fulfilling creditably the various missions for which it was designed.

The people of the state will not complain when called upon to pay the expenses of the various branches of government, however much designing politicians may attempt to make political capital of increased expenses.

PURIFYING CHICAGO POLITICS.

War is being waged on "Little Johnny Powers" at Chicago. John Maynard Harlan, who is making speeches against Johnny in that illustrious gentleman's own ward, trained for the campaign by taking boxing lessons, and exercises with a punching bag three hours a day. Little Johnny "packed" a meeting, at which Harlan was to speak, with pluguglies, but Harlan dared them to fight, and single handed cowed the whole aggregation of toughs. When his speech was finished, he walked boldly through the crowd of "short-hairs" to a street car, and not one of Powers' thugs dared to strike him. A few more men of Harlan's stripe are needed in Chicago, but they will be hard to find. Muscle is more necessary than oratory in a campaign against such men as "Little Johnny".

"Hinkey Dink" and "The Bathhouse" for, as the Times-Herald said of Harlan's meeting, "if he had made one mistake he would have gone home in an ambulance."

The warlike preacher who declared his intention of "making Spanish the prevailing language in hell" was evidently seeking to have his name printed in the papers, so we will leave it out. His patriotism seems to be the kind that impels a man to have a portrait of himself printed above his testimonial that he was cured of something by something, solely "for the good of humanity!"

When the Milwaukee common council cannot provide for the disposal of the city's garbage without the kind of a time they have been having of late, what, in the name of all that is good and holy, would become of that town if the council had to manage all of the Cream City's "public utilities?"

"I don't see what the city wants of a common council or a mayor," said Mayor Thorngood after Monday night's meeting. But the people know what they want, whether the mayor does or not, and further, they know whether or not they are getting it, too.

The literature of the world is to be materially augmented soon. Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, is to write a book on free silver, and Inspector Schaack is to write one on the Lust-gert case. Now some enterprising Chicago publisher should get One-Eyed Connelly to write a volume on prize fighting, and bind the three as a set—with Connelly's work as volume one.

Henry J. Baumgaertner, of Milwaukee, is a candidate for the republican nomination for mayor on the platform of "public ownership of public utilities" and is said to have the backing of R. M. La Follette's Cream City friends.

And after all the work of placing the torpedo under Mr. McLellan, it failed to explode, owing to the fact that the priming was defective.

The only way Corbett and Fitzsimmons can get their names in print, just at present is to "offer their services to the government."

The DeLome and McLellan incidents are now closed but the other two great questions are still unsolved mysteries.

The Club and the Wheel.

The melancholy of country life—the existence of the country woman in particular—has been spoken of and written of by countless speakers and writers. The lack of pleasure, the dull monotony, form an existence almost incredible to those who have not been brought close to such a fate by personal experience. All possible deliverances had apparently been considered long before this end of the century. Yet it remained for the last decade of the cycle to show a decided change for the better. There are two benevolent instruments at work which tend to lighten and brighten the rural woman's lot. One is the club and the other is the wheel. She belongs probably to some association, religious or studious or social; she is in a rare position if this is not truly to be asserted of her, and with almost as close truth it may be stated that she owns a bicycle. Possibly it is of an inferior make—very probably it is of last year's make, if of a standard sort, since the average country woman is neither rich nor extravagant.

But the main fact remains that she has learned to ride. She takes exercise never before attempted. She enjoys the country in a way never before supposed possible. Her club duties take up many of the idle hours of a long winter. She uses the last moments of fall weather as she hastens to employ the very first of relenting spring in hours of out of doors enjoyment. The two new factors bring her closer to her kind and to nature. Their good in these directions alone can scarcely be overestimated.—New York Post.

SEPTICIDE

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED.

Here have the evidence right at home from one of your own citizens.

"I wish I had a voice which could be heard throughout the length and breadth of this continent, that I might speak to the army of sufferers who are being tortured by the disease with which I have been afflicted for years. I have been a lifetime sufferer for several years and everyone who has had that disease knows the extreme agony I must have endured. I chafe, burn, scratch, dig, and lose of sleep has been my deplorable condition. Four of our best physicians had exhausted their energies on my case, without even giving me relief. Oh, what a godsend to me when one of our druggists called my attention to that wonderful remedy, Septicide, and assured me that it would do what skillful hands had completely failed in doing. Suffice it to say that two bottles cured me completely, so there is no return of this dreadful complaint."

CLAIMED BY THE
GRIM REAPERM. J. BRODERICK, L. KRAHMER
AND J. W. MILLARD DIE.

Funeral Services Over the Remains of the Late Frank Parker, Henry Schultz, and Mrs. John Croak—Quite a Long Mortuary List.

Michael J. Broderick, who has been ill for several weeks past with consumption, died this morning at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of his mother, No. 5, Jefferson street. Three weeks ago he came to this city from Chicago, and his condition has gradually grown worse till the end came.

The deceased for several years past has been located in Chicago, where he was engaged in railroad work. He was well known in this city, where he has a host of friends who regret much his death. The deceased was thirty-one years of age, unmarried, and besides a devoted mother leaves a sister, Mrs. John Murphy, and a brother, Edwin F. Broderick, of this city. Services will be held Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock and the interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Lawrence Krahmer.

Lawrence Krahmer died last evening at 11:45 o'clock at his home three miles west of this city on the Solomon Spoon farm. He has been ill but six days with pneumonia, and was a man of but 39 years of age, having been born at Lake Mills. Six brothers, Robert, August and Louis of this city; Charles, of Panama; Iowa, William, of Oconomowoc; Herman, of Watertown and one sister, Miss Emma Krahmer, of Watertown, are left to mourn his death. Services conducted by Robert O. Denison will be held from the home tomorrow at 11 o'clock, the interment to be in Oak Hill.

J. W. Millard.

After an illness of but a week's duration J. W. Millard died this morning at 6:50 o'clock at his home in the town of Fulton, the cause of his demise being pneumonia.

The deceased was a well-known farmer who was held in the highest esteem by all, and of late years has resided in the town of Rock. Besides a wife four children are left to mourn his death. Notice of the funeral later.

Mrs. John Croak

Services over the remains of the late Mrs. John Croak will be held from St. Patrick's church Friday morning at 10 o'clock, the delay of the interment being caused by the non-arrival of relatives from West Virginia. By the demise of Mrs. Croak the county loses one its most worthy women. She was esteemed by all, and of loving friends she possessed many.

Frank Parker.

All that was mortal of the late Frank Parker, arrived in the city at 11:30 this morning from Chicago. The remains were accompanied by relatives and a few friends, and were taken from the depot to Oak Hill cemetery, where the interment took place.

Henry Schultz's Funeral.

From St. John's German Lutheran church at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, services were held over the remains of the late Henry Schultz. Rev. G. Kaempfe officiated, and the interment was in Oak Hill.

THE MILITIA CAN BE CALLED

J. W. Bates Quotes the Law in Relation to Their Service.

When the law creating the Wisconsin National Guard was enacted some twenty years or more ago, J. W. Bates was prominently identified with the State militia, and took great interest in securing the passage of the law. He writes the Beloit Free Press as follows:

Editor of the Free Press:—A question arising in the minds of some of the Wisconsin National Guard as to their liability and obligation in case war be declared by the United States has been under discussion and examined, some claiming that only in case of insurrection, rebellion, riot, or invasion could they be ordered into active service; others that they are under the direct order of the president.

The law for more than twenty years has been that in case of war declared by or against the United States, or insurrection, riot, rebellion, invasion, or resistance to law or on application of any mayor, sheriff, or United States Marshal, all, or any portion of the National Guards, may be ordered into active service. In 1895 the much talked of amendment passed by the legislature changed the law only by adding other reasons for the ordering out the Guards, to wit "in the event of public disaster resulting from flood, conflagration or tornado."

But there is going to be no war. Our president is doing his duty and will do it, too. In my judgment, there will be no call for the boys; but if there is our boys must go—will go, and defend the flag. J. W. BATES.

COMPROMISED AT HALF THE CLAIMCONNELL'S BILL AGAINST HIS FATHER'S ESTATE.

He Accepts Five Hundred Dollars in Settlement of All Wages Earned While Working on the Farm—All the Parties Are Satisfied.

After having hung fire in the courts for several weeks, the hearing of the claim of James Connell against the Patrick Connell estate, has been disposed of.

In Judge J. W. Sale's court, the $1,000 claim of James Connell was allowed at just one-half—or $500. Mr. Connell several weeks ago brought suit against the estate, but from time to time the matter was put over.

Claim for Services.

On the death of Patrick Connell, of the town of Rock, property to the value of several thousand dollars was left to a widow and some fifteen children. James Connell, one of the eldest children, filed a claim against the estate soon after the death of his father, alleging that the petitioner thought it was no more than he should receive from the estate the sum of $1,000 for services rendered. The complaint further stated that he said James Connell worked on the farm of his father, Patrick Connell, for nine years, or from the time that he was of age till he reached the age of thirty.

The Matter Settled.

When the case was called yesterday the interested heirs all recognized the justice of the claim, although they thought the figures were placed a trifle too high. By mutual agreement the amount allowed was fixed at $500, and thus the litigation that at one time threatened to create much dissension in an otherwise peaceful family, was ended. There are said to be no more skeletons in the Connell household closet.

HEARD A GOOD LECTURE

Christ Church Cadets Heard a Talk By Rev. Mr. Thomas

When the Christ Church Cadets finished their drill last evening at the Parish house a rare treat was in store for them in the nature of a short lecture delivered by the Rev. W. Perry Thomas, of Trinity mission, Monroe. The lecture was more in the nature of a practical talk, and judging from the close attention each and every boy gave there is little doubt it had the desired effect. Rev. Mr. Thomas told briefly of the rules one must follow through life to be a well developed athlete, and why one should not use alcohol and tobacco through life if they expected to enjoy perfect manhood. The talk was much enjoyed and Mr. Thomas received many compliments from those present.

Sanborn's Fish Market.

Our regular weekly fish order comes tomorrow; the usual variety of fresh caught fish, white fish, trout, pickerel, smelts, etc., and all the fresh fish steaks. We have been trying to impress on you the advisability of ordering your fish Thursdays, for Friday's use; the longer time the fish have for thawing out, the better they will be. Our oyster trade increases every week; the choice stock and the manner of keeping it the cause. Our oysters all come direct from the Baltimore beds, and are kept in the only refrigerator in the city. Sanborn & Co.

WORDS OF HIGHEST PRAISE

Commendation of the Career of Frank Parker, the Billiardist.

In commending on the demise of the late Frank Parker, the champion billiard player, the Chicago Tribune says: "He was known to all billiard lovers of the west as one of the best veterans of the game and had been connected in one way or another with the billiard world for a long time and was spoken of as a referee for some of the big matches. He was connected for many years with the Brunswick-Balke-Gollander company and was regarded as a player of the first class. His game was not brilliant but of the sure, steady variety, which often wins against the brilliant and erratic style. He opened a billiard room in Chicago in 1857 but was not successful and went west returning to Chicago later. Many expressions of regret were heard among the billiard players at Green's academy and other resorts where the knights of the cue are accustomed to gather."

A MERRY TIME AT AFTON

Janesville People the Guest of the Cinch Club.

The Afton Cinch club held forth last evening at Woodmen's hall at Afton and judging from the reports brought back by those who went from here a good time was in store for all who attended. The serving of a tempting supper was in the hands of Mrs. McCrear, after which the guests indulged in dancing to the music of Jack Tuckwood's orchestra. Among those who attended from this city were: Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sanborn, Miss Wilbur, Miss Walsh, Fred Wilbur and Edwin Hemming.

Her Choice

A lady who saw that her servant girl seemed to take a certain interest in the objects of art in her parlor said to her: "Which one of those figures do you like best, Mary?"

"This one, mum," said Mary, pointing to the armless Venus of Milo.

"And why do you like the Venus best?"

"Sure, it's the easiest to doost, mum," answered the girl.—Harlem Life.

PURCHASE DIRECT FROM THE FARMERSNEW TACTICS ADOPTED BY TOBACCO DEALERS.

Janesville Dealers in Leaf Do Not Like the Innovation—They May Adopt Measures for Control of the Market Against Intruders.

Charles E. Baggott, a prominent leaf tobacco buyer from Cincinnati, is in the local market and promises to rival the recent $12,000 purchases made here by the Cincinnati and West Alexandria, Ohio, firms of Book & Black.

Mr. Baggott will follow the same tactics as did the other Ohio firms. He will buy direct from the farmers their tobacco in bundles, and as such it will be received in this city and shipped direct to Ohio.

Local Dealers Not Pleased

The coming of Mr. Baggott into this section among the farmers has caused no end of talk among the local packers, who are anything but pleased over the method of buying as conducted by these Ohio firms. Rock county farmers say that it is a good thing for them, for the reason that it causes strong competition which has a tendency to raise the price of leaf.

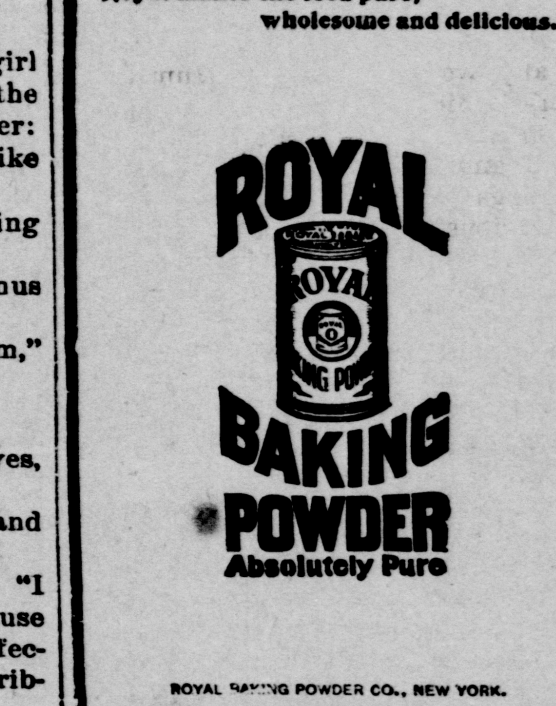

"The only reason why these Ohio firms have been jumping into this section of late and buying direct from the farmers is to save the profits made by the leaf dealers," said a much disgusted local packer this morning. "It won't make much difference with us in the way of our not being able to get enough leaf," he continued, "for everyone knows that there are hundreds of cases left in this county alone. The trouble really comes when we go to visit the farmer, for it is then that he wants about four prices for his goods." At a local bank Mr. Baggott now has on hand a goodly sum of cash and the receiving of leaf in this city on the wholesale plan will soon commence. Some of the local dealers talk of declaring war upon the eastern method of doing business, and a leaf tobacco war is one of the possibilities of the near future.

Local Market Dull.

During the last few days the local market has not been as lively in the way of sales as it might be. Among the large sales reported are 100 cases to eastern parties by J. B. Dearborn; 150 cases by J. L. & M. F. Groene to eastern parties; and the sale of 160 cases of '96 goods by George Eumrill to Pennsylvania dealers, all at good prices.

BRONZE MEMORIAL IN CAPITOL.

Mr. Perkins Eulogizes the Sailors of the Lost Warship—Public Debt Statement Issued—Debate on Loud Bill in the House.

Washington, March 2.—Shortly after the senate convened Tuesday Mr. Perkins (Cal.), of the committee on naval affairs, presented a favorable report upon Mr. Bacon's resolution providing for the erection in Statuary hall of the capitol of a bronze memorial tablet commemorative of the heroism of the officers and sailors who lost their lives in the Maine disaster in Havana harbor. In the course of his report upon the resolution, Mr. Perkins delivered a splendid eulogy of the officers and men of the Maine.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.) suggested that Statuary hall was scarcely a proper place to erect the tablet, and Mr. Hoar (Mass.) thought some better place for it might be designated.

The resolution was amended to provide for the erection of the tablet at some suitable place in the capitol, and was adopted.

Mr. Hoar then renewed his motion of Monday that the senate disagree with the house amendments to the bankruptcy bill, and that a committee of conference be appointed. "The house bill assumes," Mr. Stewart began, "that any man who cannot pay his debts is a criminal." It is the most atrocious bill that could be framed in the present condition of the country. No appeal to me need be made in behalf of this diabolical bill. I propose to discuss this matter fully, that not only the conferees but the country may know what the bill means."

Mr. Stewart spoke until 2 o'clock, when the Alaska homestead and right of way bill was laid before the senate. Mr. Stewart announcing that he would continue his address today.

FAVORED BY EDITORS.

Now Support the Loud Bill—Their Amendment Accepted.

Washington, March 2.—Illinois newspaper men favor the Loud bill for reforming postal rates. An amendment that removes their objection to the bill has been accepted by Mr. Loud, who has charge of the bill, and Representative Hinrichsen, as spokesman for the Illinois Press association, assured the house of their support of the bill.

Mr. Loud gave notice that the 10 per cent amendment would soon be offered, and then made an exhaustive argument for the bill. He was answered by Mr. Moon (Dem., Tenn.), and upheld by Mr. Perkins (Rep., Iowa).

The bill is identical with that which passed the house about a year ago. It excludes from classification as second-class matter, which pays postage at the rate of one cent per pound, books and reprints of books printed in serial form, sample copies of newspapers or periodicals, unsold copies returned from agents, and all publications designed primarily for advertising purposes. All such publications, by its terms, would go into the third class, which pays eight cents per pound.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

At Present the Nation Owes $1,010,104,216, a Decrease of $1,597,122.

Washington, March 2.—The monthly treasury statement of the public debt shows that the debt, less cash in the treasury at the close of business Monday, amounted to $1,010,104,216, a decrease for the month of $1,597,122. This decrease is accounted for by a corresponding increase in the cash. The debt is recapitulated as follows:

Interest-bearing debt, $847,366,680; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,327,670; debt bearing no interest, $386,974,069; total, $1,235,668,419. This amount, however, does not include $585,252,933 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold, $204,063,971; silver, $511,858,834; paper, $107,564,958; bonds, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $33,084,002, making a total of $856,571,766, against which there are demand liabilities outstanding amounting to $631,007,563, leaving a net cash balance of $225,564,203.

CHICAGO ASKED FOR HELP.

Strong Statement of Grievances Made—Almost Impossible to Make Living Wages Before the Recent Reduction—Mills Have Paid 16 Per Cent Dividends.

Chicago, March 2.—Leaders of Chicago labor unions have been waited upon by representatives of the striking textile workers of New England, and financial aid asked to assist the cotton mill operatives in their battle against lower wages. William March and Richard Egan, accredited representatives of the joint strike committee of New Bedford, Mass., are in Chicago, and will remain several days in the hope of securing an encouraging amount of subscriptions.

"New Bedford is the battleground of the strike," said Mr. Marsh. "Nine thousand operatives have been out of work in that city for nearly seven weeks. The average pay for weavers was only $7 a week, and when the mill owners announced a cut of 10 per cent the operatives struck, feeling that they could not live on lower wages. The mills have paid as high as 16 per cent in dividends during the last year. Throughout New England the unions are helping the strikers in their fight, and now we want to enlist the west."

Will Go On Inspecting Meat.

Washington, March 2.—Secretary Wilson said concerning the decision of Judge Rodgers regarding the unconstitutionality of government meat inspection that the department would continue its work as heretofore. That the case being a criminal one there was no appeal, and that they would follow the law to its fullest letter as laid down by congress. The secretary says that the department has the right to inspect the meat before and after killing because it is shipped out of the state again. No attention will be paid to this decision. The agricultural department is guided by the opinion of the attorney-general.

CHARGES OF BRIBERY.

Will County Men Accused—Citizens of Prominence Implicated.

Joliet, Ill., March 2.—John P. King, a rich lumberman and defendant property-owner; Henry Fell, brother of Juror Jacob Fell; John C. Carlross, a well-known paper and paint merchant of Joliet, and Julius C. Lins of Wilmington, an employer of Juror John Beland, were cited Tuesday to appear before Judge Robert W. Hilscher in the Circuit court of Will county and show cause why they should not be attached for contempt of court. The charge against them is that they have attempted to tamper with the jury which is trying the omnibus condemnation suits brought by the sanitary district board of Chicago against the owners of property needed as a right of way for the drainage channel.

Attorneys for the district claim that there is $150,000 at stake, representing the difference between valuations placed on the property by the district experts and the high figures named by those who valued the property for the defendants; in other words, that Chicago taxpayers will be mulcted of that sum if the Will county jury sitting in the case gives the verdict expected under existing conditions. It is alleged by lawyers and detectives for the district who have been working on this phase of the case that a combination exists in this community, operating much as an oath-bound organization would, for the purpose of getting from Chicago an average of $125 a front foot for property which twenty-seven owners of other Joliet land have sworn on the witness stand to be worth in open market between $35 and $45 a foot.

Chief Operative George W. Ritter of the detective agency which was called into the case stated in an affidavit that he went to the house of Julius Lins at Wilmington last Saturday, passing himself off as Harless King, son of one of the defendants, John P. King, stating that King had become uneasy about Juror Beland, the Braidwood agent of Markert & Co.'s brewery, of which Lins is part owner, and that Lins assured Ritter the juror was all right for their side, adding: "He works for me; I know him." He also deposed that he asked Lins about Juror White and was told he was "all right." Morrill Sprague, an attorney, and Joseph Carlin, a merchant of Joliet, deposed that last Sunday, in the Palmer house of Chicago, they overheard a conversation between Ritter and Lins, in which the latter said he had seen Juror Beland that morning; that Beland was "all fixed" and would stand for a verdict of $125 a foot.

Lawyers Garnsey and House, for the defendants, protested against an order being hurriedly entered by the court before they had examined the contents of the petition and affidavits. The judge entered a contempt order. City Attorney McNaughton termed the charge a "sandbagging, put-up-job" against the property-owners, and said that was the sentiment of all concerned on his side.

Children and adults tortured by burns, scalds, injuries, eczema or skin diseases may secure instant relief by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is the great Pile remedy. People's Drug Co.

Boles Is Not a Candidate.

Independence, Iowa, March 2.—Former Governor Horace Boles of Waterloo, Iowa, will not be the candidate of the Democratic party from this, the 3d, congressional district, as has been heralded by the press of late. This is authentic.

WHAT'S IN A STROKE?

Wallace Ross Compares English and American Oarsmen.

AMERICAN STYLE FOR AMERICANS.

Difference Between Our Collegians and Those of Great Britain—Lessons Learned From the Experiences of Leading American College Crews.

The English stroke will never do for American oarsmen. They have never yet won a race with it, and, in my humble opinion, never will. Our boys had better stick to the stroke of their daddies. It was good enough for the Ward brothers, the pioneers of American rowing, when they beat the world away back in the earlier seventies, and for the Halifax four when they defeated the celebrated Renforth and his champion English crew a short time before. Every time a trial of skill and endurance has taken place between American and English oarsmen, professionals I mean, the American crew and the American stroke have invariably won. English amateurs defeat visiting Americans simply because they know far more about the game than their Yankee brethren. A Briton is on the water almost from the time he is able to walk and when he reaches the age of 12 or 14 is pretty clever with the oars.

I am speaking of what they term the "privileged classes" over on the other side, the lads of leisure, sons of gentlemen who do nothing more laborious than clip coupons or collect rents from their tenants. They have all the time in the world to row and pick up points from the watermen of the Thames and Tyne. Poor boys there have no money to buy or hire boats. Neither have they time to row. They must earn their living, hence the lads in the great public schools and colleges and the graduates of colleges about constitute in the water as long as possible and thus make the propelling power the greater by an almost continuous resistance between the oar blade and the water. To enable the oarsman to better stand the strain, the English oar blade is made anywhere from 1 to 1½ inches narrower than the American sweep. The greater part of the strain is, as I have explained, put upon the body, the arms and shoulders being spared to a considerable extent. So, too, are the legs, but not to the degree that the shoulders and arms are. Englishmen believe in foot work in a boat, but not to the point we go. They press evenly with both feet against the footboard, using them with the same leniency that they do the arms, the back and body serving as a sort of complex battering ram to butt through the water.

Now as to the American style and its points of difference. I am talking, of course, of the modified American style such as adopted by Courtney, Hanlan, Faulkner, Reagan, myself and other representative American oarsmen. The old American style, as we all know, consisted simply of arm and shoulder work, there being no sliding seats in those days and no chance for foot work, save in so far as it braced a man for a strong, steady pull. The American style, as now practiced, differs from the English principally in the fact that there is a more even distribution of physical power. No unnatural strain is placed upon the body. In fact, it is spared considerably and the burden of work put upon the shoulders, arms and feet. The footboard is indeed pressed vigorously all through the stroke, and this is a wise idea, for as every sensible man knows, the legs are far stronger than the arms and capable of greater strain as well as driving power. The great power of the shoulders is brought into requisition by slightly humping the back, and, when the water is fairly gripped, pulling with straight, rigid arm for over half the stroke and relaxing only and crooking the arm when the slide compels. Our slide is from 4 to 6 inches longer than that practiced by English oarsmen and the strain on the back consequently lessened. We do not leave our oars quite as long in the water as our English friends, because we use a broader blade and quicker recovery, thus reasoning,

VARIOUS NOTES.

Unconsidered Trifles of Up to Date Wear and Use.

Little theater hats are made of spangled lace or tulle, in white, gray, cream or black or sometimes are simply of bows and knots of ribbons. Ribbon shirred over wire and made into loops is a favorite trimming. Cravats, large or small, of silk, satin, tulle, lace or mousseline de soie are much worn and are of service in giving an air of gayety to an otherwise plain bodice. A corded plaited crepe de chine, in white or colors, edged with white or butter colored lace, composes very pretty cravats. Girdles in the byzantine style, with jeweled or metallic ornamentation, will be worn as long as blouses prevail, and blouses are to last all summer. These belts are narrow and are made of spangled galloon or of kid, silk or velvet upon which cabochons and beads have been sewed in a pattern. The fastening is a buckle of gold, silver, steel or jewels. Plain gold ribbon, with an enameled clasp, is a pretty belt. Shepherdess hats, in the old leghorn style, are to be a feature of summer millinery, with abundant trimming of flowers. Hats of braided chip and straw are also seen among the new models and are often of a very bright, solid color, greens, purples and blues predominating. A hat of rough mauve straw, trimmed with mauve ribbons and with innumerable little double daisies, ranging in color from pale pink to the natural purplish crimson, is exceedingly pretty and pleasing.

No fashionable letter paper is strongly colored. The preferred shades are delicate.

A picture is given of an elaborate evening toilet. The bodice and train are of golden yellow moire velours, the front of the train having an application of guipure and opening over a petticoat of white tulle embroidered with beads over a yellow lining. The bodice is embroidered with beads and decorated with plaits of yellow mousseline de soie and opens over a vest of tulle to match the petticoat. A thick rope of mauve chrysanthemums forms the shoulder straps, passing across the front of the corsage. JUDIC CHOLLET.

RECEPTION GOWNS.

What a Woman May Wear When She Is "At Home."

Reception gowns may be divided into two classes—those intended for comparatively informal occasions and those meant for elaborate and ceremonious functions. When receiving friends at home, one should do them honor and show one's appreciation of the blessing of their society by dressing well. Light colors and gay trimmings are quite permissible, even for persons who wear only dark or subdued tints in the street and for visiting. A trailing gown is always more elegant, more graceful and more dignified for the house.

As for materials, silk or woolen goods may be adopted, according to the taste and the purse of the wearer. The tall, flaring medic collar, lined with white or a pale tone, even when the general color of the gown is dark, is a favorite finish for the neck, or a full fichu of mousseline de soie, frilled at the edge and crossed upon the bosom, may be chosen. The fichu is dostrable for old ladies who wish to keep their figures more or less obscured. Long, medieval sleeves, reaching to the knuckles, are most fashionable. Princess gowns, with or without a train, are especially liked for "at home" costumes, but whether the skirt be trailing or not at the back it should not be cut short in front unless indeed it is equally short all around, as in the case of a young girl. An upward slant of the skirt in front, which shows the feet, is most awkward and displeasing in effect. The picture shows a new evening gown, the skirt of plaited pink silk having a separate, pointed yoke of pink satin embroidered with silver. The blouse bodice has a pointed decolletage framed in embroidered satin revers. The belt and choux are of black satin with rhinestone ornaments. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Golf Championships.

The separation of the open and amateur golf championships meets with general approval. The Morristown links are attractive for the amateurs and an interval of three months between the two events has many apparent advantages.

Wright's 'High School Tar Soap'

IS RIGHT GOOD SOAP

The highest cleansing and healing qualities in it of any TAR SOAP made. For cleaning greasy articles where other Soaps refuse to take hold it has no equal. As a healing article for use about animals it is certainly very fine. One of our unsolicited testimonials:

Death-Blow to Love.
Father—So you think our daughter has fallen in love with that young man.
Mother—She is perfectly infatuated with him.
Father—What do you propose to do?
Mother—That feeling of undying love which she has must be turned to aversion or she may elope with him in spite of us. We must do it at once.
Father—But how?
Mother—We must try to give her the impression that none of the other girls want him.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Higher Walks.
Mrs. Greening—Mrs. Cranston never lets slip an opportunity to boast that she has always been accustomed to associating with people in the higher walks of life. Who were her people, anyway?
Mrs. Housely—I don't know much about them, except that I believe her father was one of those what-you-call 'ems who wear spurs and walk up telegraph poles—linemen, I believe is the name they go by.—Chicago Daily News.

A Casual Glance.
Mrs. Hymen—Did you notice the gentleman who just got off the car?
Miss Ankshus—The brunette man in a brown suit and derby, wearing a polka-dot scarf and opal pin, chrysanthemum, patent leathers, tan gloves and smoking a cigarette? I didn't observe him closely. Did he speak to us?
—Judge.

A Case Where It Did.
Haskins—Do you place any faith in the absurd idea that the giving of a knife to a person severs friendship?
Perkins—I used to scoff at it, but I don't any more. I gave a knife to a small boy for his birthday, and when he got through carving an $800 piano with it his parents cut me dead.—N. Y. Journal.

Pleasant to the Last.
First Passenger (irritably)—Where are your eyes?
Celtic Passenger (pleasantly)—In me head.
First Passenger (warming up)—Well, can't you see my feet?
Celtic Passenger (more pleasantly)—No; ye have shoes on.—Tit-Bits.

A Bargain Tragedy.
"My wife and her best friend are not on speaking terms."
"What's the trouble?"
"Well, her friend persuaded her to buy a golf-cape for $12—and in the very next shop they found the same thing marked down to nine dollars."—Detroit Free Press.

The Mortifying Fact.
Twynn—So you had burglars at your house, Triplett?
Triplett—Yes, and the thing about it that grinds is the fact that they went all over the house and found nothing worth carrying off, and all the newspapers are proclaiming the fact.—Harlem Life.

A Miss-Understanding.

"That," replied Senator Sorghum, "depends entirely on whether or not I am one of the victors."—Washington Star.

"All right. How much are you going to leave her?"—N. Y. Journal.

Jill—I thought you were acting rather strange, lately.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Back Number.
Returning good for evil May be pleasant, in a way; But you'll find that he who does it Isn't cutting ice to-day.

Oh, So Mean!
Did he threaten to commit suicide when she said it could never be?
Well, hardly.
He got up, brushed the dust from the knees of his trousers with a silk handkerchief and said:
"I feel that you have made a rich man of me."
"Made a rich man of you!" she exclaimed. "How?"
"I shall never marry," he replied, and as he wandered out into the cold world there was just a trace of a smile on his face.—Chicago Post.

Willie's Heroism.
Mamma—How did you get your clothes so badly torn?

Mamma—That was a brave deed. Who was the boy?
Willie—Me.—Up-to-Date.

Rank Nonsense.
Jack—They say it is better to be born lucky than rich.
Tom—What nonsense! A man who is born rich is also lucky.—Town Topics.

A Certain Test.
Anxious Mother—Always dip the thermometer in the water before you begin bathing baby, to see that the water's not too hot or too cold.
Nurse—Shure, we don't do that way at home, ma'am. We just puts the baby in the water. If it goes red all over, we know it's too 'ot, an' if it goes blue, then we know it's too cold.—Leslie's Weekly.
